

Several EMTs have had issues logging into AB Tech Web Advisor and also into Blackboard to take the EMT update. I found that if someone has problems with the Web Advisor and getting registered it is easier to complete the paper registration and fax it to the number on the form. Once they have registered AB Tech will send them a registration form that also has their student ID number on it. There are several that had problems logging into Blackboard using the default user ID of their first middle initial and last name all run together with the password being their student ID number. I spoke to Pat Horlick today and found that they are having to reset passwords so individuals can log into Blackboard. Pat said to have them either email instructionalsupport@abtech.edu or call her at 254-1921 Ext. 300 to have the login corrected. If they email support they need to include their full name and their student ID number. Please forward this to the rest of the Chiefs and hope it helps.
